LOCAL MATTERS.

Sun and Tide Table.

Sun rises tomorrow at 5:30 and sets at 6:33. High water at 9:41 a. m. and 10:12 p. m.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section partly cloudy and warmer tonight; showers and cooler Tuesday or Tuesday night; light southerly winds, becoming variable.

YESTERDAY.

Yesterday was a beautiful April Sunday with bright genial sun, blue skies and the air just crisp enough to make everyone wish to be out of doors to enjoy nature in her spring attire. Many of the fruit trees and the lilacs and other early flowers were in bloom and the air was redolent with their delicious perfumes. Indeed "every prospect pleases." Large numbers of persons were on the street while many others went to Washington or enjoyed drives or walks in the country nearby. Many strangers were in this city and all day the river was dotted with pleasure boats though the surface of the water was not so smooth as it might have been.

The churches were all well attended especially Christ Church, which was visited by a large number of strangers who came over from Washington, where they are visiting, to attend the services. Rev. H. M. Carter, the new pastor of the M. E. Church South, and Rev. A. W. Radmill, recently appointed pastor of Trinity M. E. Church occupied their respective pulpits and both made excellent impressions upon the large congregations.

At St. Mary's Church Rev. Father Waters preached a mission sermon in the morning and at night the mission for Catholics closed with a sermon by Rev. Father Doyle, O. S. P. Both were strong and interesting discourses.

In the new Episcopal Chapel at Braddock Heights services were held yesterday afternoon for the first time, the Sunday school having been opened by Mr. Thompson, of the Seminary, as superintendent, and Rev. W. J. Morton, of Christ Church, conducting evening services and preaching a sermon later.

At the Chapel of the Good Shepherd, on South Fairfax street, Rev. P. P. Phillips, of St. Paul's Church, held baptismal services in the afternoon when eight children were baptized.

Owing to the absence of Rev. J. M. Holmes who was attending conference in Baltimore, there were no services at the M. P. Church.

The services in the other churches were conducted as usual by the resident clergy.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH.

Last night St. Mary's Catholic Church was the scene of a beautiful and impressive ceremony, the renewal of the baptismal vows by the whole congregation. Standing and with right hand uplifted they answered with strong and firm voice, the questions which are addressed to a candidate for baptism.

This ceremony came as an appropriate conclusion to the services which have been going on in the church during the past week at which the people faithfully assisted and in large numbers received the sacraments of penance and holy Eucharist.

Father Doyle preached an eloquent sermon on the subject of the baptism of the Holy Spirit. Many non-Catholics attended the service and were much interested in the sermon and the ceremony. The service every evening during this week will be for the special benefit of non-Catholics who may wish to hear a plain and thorough explanation of Catholic belief.

Many erroneous opinions regarding the Catholic Church will be corrected and a clear statement of her true position on most vital questions will be given.

A question box is placed near the church door to receive the written queries of persons seeking information on religious topics. Many questions were asked by Catholics during their week of the mission, and now non-Catholics are especially invited to patronize the question box. The answering of questions each evening at the beginning of the service at 8 o'clock is a most interesting and instructive feature of the mission.

A cordial invitation is extended by the missionaries as well as the pastor to all non-Catholics to come and hear the lectures. Father Handly, O. S. P. of the Apostolic Mission House will preach this evening and Father Waters, of Virginia, will answer the questions.

THE WASHINGTON RELICS.

A dispatch from New York says the proposition of the Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons to erect a shrine for George Washington relics has met with hearty approval of Masons of that city and in fact all over the state of New York.

Worshipful Master Charles H. Callahan, of Alexandria-Washington Lodge, has sent a communication to the New York lodge thanking them for the support they have promised in the matter.

Worshipful Master Charles Waldeck, of Kedron Lodge, Brooklyn, who recently visited the Alexandria-Washington Lodge for the purpose of viewing the relics and consulting with the officers of the lodge as to their purpose, said yesterday: "I am in hearty sympathy with the Washington shrine project. I expect that the movement will be furthered materially at a conference to be held in New Orleans this week. There is no question about the genuineness of the Washington relics. In the old lodge-rooms are the Masonic apron worn by Washington, and which was woven and presented to him by Madame Lafayette in 1784 and worn by him at the ceremony of laying the cornerstone of the Capitol at Washington. The trowel used by the general for this purpose is also preserved, as are the lesser lights. A picture of Washington, the only one for which he ever sat while president, is also in the possession of the lodge. Fifty thousand dollars has been refused by the members for this painting. Washington's bed chamber clock, his wedding gloves, field glasses and spurs and many other genuine relics of the great patriot rest in niches and hang on the walls of the sanctum of the present worshipful master. It is the desire of the men who are striving to bring into existence the new memorial to erect an imposing building somewhere in the vicinity of the original lodge, where the treasures may be kept safely as a legacy for future generations of Free Masons. The proposed temple is to be in the form of a temple with one floor set aside as a home for the relics. The memorial association is composed of grand masters of the several grand jurisdictions in the United States. An appeal has been sent to every Masonic lodge in the land for assistance. It is pointed out by those back of the movement that the success of the project will mean that Masons will have the finest memorial to George Washington in the country and both their pride and patriotism are now appealed to. To one seated for the first time in the lodgerooms where the relics are gathered, it is not necessary to close one's eyes to be transported back to the days of the revolution."

COLORED MAN SHOT.

Alfred Lewis, colored, came to this city Saturday night with a bullet wound in his left arm which he said was inflicted by another colored man in West End. Dr. T. M. Jones dressed his wound. Later Officer Sampson arrested Samuel Marbury, colored, on suspicion of shooting Lewis. The latter positively identified Marbury as his assailant. The case was called in the Police Court this morning when Lewis, his brother and a colored youth identified Marbury as the man who met them near the site of the old Catts tavern late Saturday night. Marbury, it was alleged, ordered Lewis to get out of the way of a white woman who was pushing a baby carriage and shoved him aside. Lewis used some harsh language toward Marbury, who drew a pistol and fired at the former. The first shot went wild, but the second struck Lewis on the right arm. Marbury, who claimed that he was in bed at the time of the assault, was released on $500 bond to appear before the grand jury, John Walsh, of Burgundy, becoming his surety. Lewis was represented by Mr. L. H. Machen.

BOY'S CLOTHING ON FIRE.

Theodore, the 8-year-old son of Mary Spicer, who has rooms in the old City Hotel building, built a bonfire of straw in the yard yesterday afternoon and, draped in red, white and blue bunting, he was dancing gleefully around the flames when the building caught fire. Messrs. Harry A. Williams, McCallery, Frank Twardy, and Frederick D. Zienert saw the boy's plight and grabbing him tore the burning clothing and bunting from his body. He escaped serious injury. His rescuers were pitifully turned.

FINED FIVE DOLLARS.

Among the cases before the Police Court this morning was that of Rufus Webb, a colored boy, who had been arrested by Officers Knight and Reed charged with riding a bicycle in the night without a light. He was fined $5. The law forbidding the riding of wheels on pavements is often violated, and those who persist in bringing out bicycles in the night without light as well as those who persist in riding them on pavements are liable to be arrested and fined.

Samuel Walker, colored, was arrested today by Deputy Marshal J. F. Glover charged with robbing working men's clothing at Fort Myer. He was brought to this city and placed in jail. The prisoner will be brought before U. S. Commissioner Garout on Wednesday afternoon.

After games for the children, ice cream and cake were served, thus bringing to a happy close a most successful year in this important work.

Demonstration Against Briand. Paris, April 11.—Premier Briand whose enemies accuse of deserting socialism for political preferment, is to take real risks of violence if he persists in taking an active part in the campaign for the election of members of the Chamber of Deputies, which is to be held April 24.

Yesterday's demonstration against the premier at St. Omand, when he was saved from personal injury only by the intervention of gendarmes, has convinced the ministry that the large socialist element keenly resents Briand's change of faith, and the premier is today being urged to keep as much in the background as possible.

Stellenbosch, France, April 11.—Police today searched the rooms of Pedro Castan, the Spanish anarchist who was arrested last night while trying to make his way into a banquet given at St. Omand in honor of Premier Briand, and found two cases of revolvers.

Shad Given Away. Norfolk, Va., April 11.—There have been larger catches of shad in the Chesapeake Bay this year than ever before in the memory of the oldest fishermen. State Fish Commissioner Leg says he never saw so many shad in all his life.

He declares that the fish are so plentiful that in small places on the James river he saw as many as 1,000 on a wharf, and the poor residents were given fish free. Fishermen at Ocean View gave away hundreds of shad to the poor and the market is so full that a buck shad can be bought for 10 cents and a roe shad for 80 cents. Ten thousand shad left this section last week for Philadelphia.
